

Dear Admiral Austin:

This will acknowledge your two letters of 27 July requesting representatives from this Agency to address the students at the Naval War College Strategy Study for the 1962-63 academic year.

You suggested Dr. Ray S. Cline, our Deputy Director for Intelligence, to make the address on "The U. S. National Intelligence System in National Security Policy" at 11:00 a. m. on Monday, 22 October, and to participate in the afternoon discussions on this topic. We are pleased to make him available for this.

The proposed lecture on "Soviet Science and Technology" scheduled for 11:00 a. m., Thursday, 25 October, will be given by Dr. Albert D. Wheelon who has succeeded Dr. Herbert Scoville as Assistant Director for Scientific Intelligence. Dr. Wheelon also will be glad to meet with a seminar group in the afternoon for more detailed discussions.

These gentlemen will await further word from your representatives to make complete arrangements for their visits.

Faithfully yours,
